

JADA Privacy Policy (Policy for protection of personal information)

The Japan Anti-Doping Agency (JADA) will establish a basic policy on the protection of personal information and will endeavor to further protect personal information.

In order to prevent the infringement of individual rights and interests in the course of handling personal information, JADA will thoroughly cause the staff and stakeholders involved in the business to understand that such information be stored safely and handled.

1. Collection of personal information

- (1) When JADA intends to collect personal information, it will clarify the purpose of handling personal information and collect it to the extent necessary for achieving the purpose.
- (2) As a general rule, JADA will collect personal information from the person himself or herself by lawful and fair means.
- (3) As a general rule, JADA will not collect personal information on any thought, creed and religion.

2. Proper maintenance

- (1) JADA will prevent leakage, loss, damage, and tampering of personal information.
- (2) JADA will reliably and promptly discard or delete personal information that it no longer needs.

3. Use beyond purpose

As a general rule, except for cases permitted under any laws or regulations, JADA will not handle personal information beyond the extent necessary achieving the purpose when it was collected.

4. Restriction on provision to third parties

As a general rule, except for cases permitted under any laws or regulations, JADA will not provide collected personal information to third parties other than relevant anti-doping organizations and third parties specified in advance.

5. Request for disclosure, correction and suspension of use

You may request disclosure, correction or suspension of use of your own personal information held by JADA.

6. Name and address of business operator handling personal information and representative of such business operator
